

To highlight the scholarly contributions generated through the project Transforming Anxieties of Ageing in Southeastern Europe, this subsection presents publications authored by members of our research team. Produced within an interdisciplinary framework that brings together history, anthropology, sociology, political science, cultural and literary studies, these works reflect the analytical, empirical, and conceptual insights that have emerged over the course of our research, supported by funding from the Volkswagen Foundation.

Brunnbauer, Ulf. Demographers as Desk Perpetrators? Population Experts and Serbia's Kosovo Obsession in the 1980s and Thereafter. Contemporary European History. First View, pp. 1-19. Published online: 04 November 2025. <https://doi.org/10.1017/S096077732510132X>

Brunnbauer, Ulf. (Un)Discovery of Old People in Socialist Yugoslavia: The Knowledge Politics of Inequality. Ревија за социјална политика / Journal of Social Policy. Vol. 18. No. 21. Online First Published: 21 August 2025. <https://doi.org/10.37509/socpol>

Wohlmann, Anita, Kribernegg, Ulla. Gesundes Alter Age Studies und Public Health Humanities. In: Solveig Lena Hansen, Henning Schmidt-Semisch (Hg.) Kunst - Kultur - Gesundheit. Transcript, 2026, 33-48. Kunst - Kultur - Gesundheit - Perspektiven der Public Health Humanities